QF Build is a free multiplatform and easy to use C++ based add-in for Microsoft Visual Basic or Microsoft Visual Studio. It helps you build QF tests for complex multi-page applications and web sites. Its main functions are: - View page source - Run QF Test Scripts - Run multiple QF Test Scripts - Click on a button, link or text and QF Build shows you the corresponding HTML source code. - Change the page position with a click on the page using QF Build's mouse toggling. - Change the page size with a click on the page using QF Build's mouse toggling. - Create new QF Test with the pages of your choice. I'd really love to have either of these options added to QF Builder. I would recommend making either the stop-the-app option or a custom build of the source not automatically compile.

Xavier Bertrand, le 8 février 2016. — VINCENT CHAMBON / AFP « Les taux de croissance économique sont en train de s'estomper », a assuré jeudi 8 février le ministre de l'économie, Xavier Bertrand. Dans une interview au Monde, l'ancien président de la Fondation Ensemble, aussi acteur politique, assure que la zone euro est en train de devenir un « club référentiel ». « Les pays qui ont un projet de relance budgétaire, ce sont ceux qui sont en forte croissance, dit-il. C'est un phénomène qui commence à se développer. » « Il n'y a plus de flambée économique », assure Xavier Bertrand, ajoutant que la croissance s'est « contrainte à d'autres ressorts ». « La baisse de la croissance que nous avons observée depuis un an, c'est aussi un symptôme de cette baisse de prospérité. » Mais le ministre assure que cette hausse des taux d'intérêt est « temporaire » et que la croissance baisse en raison d'une forte hausse des prix des matières premières. «
